

BUBBLY FOR FLAT SPECIALIST

By A. Liszt

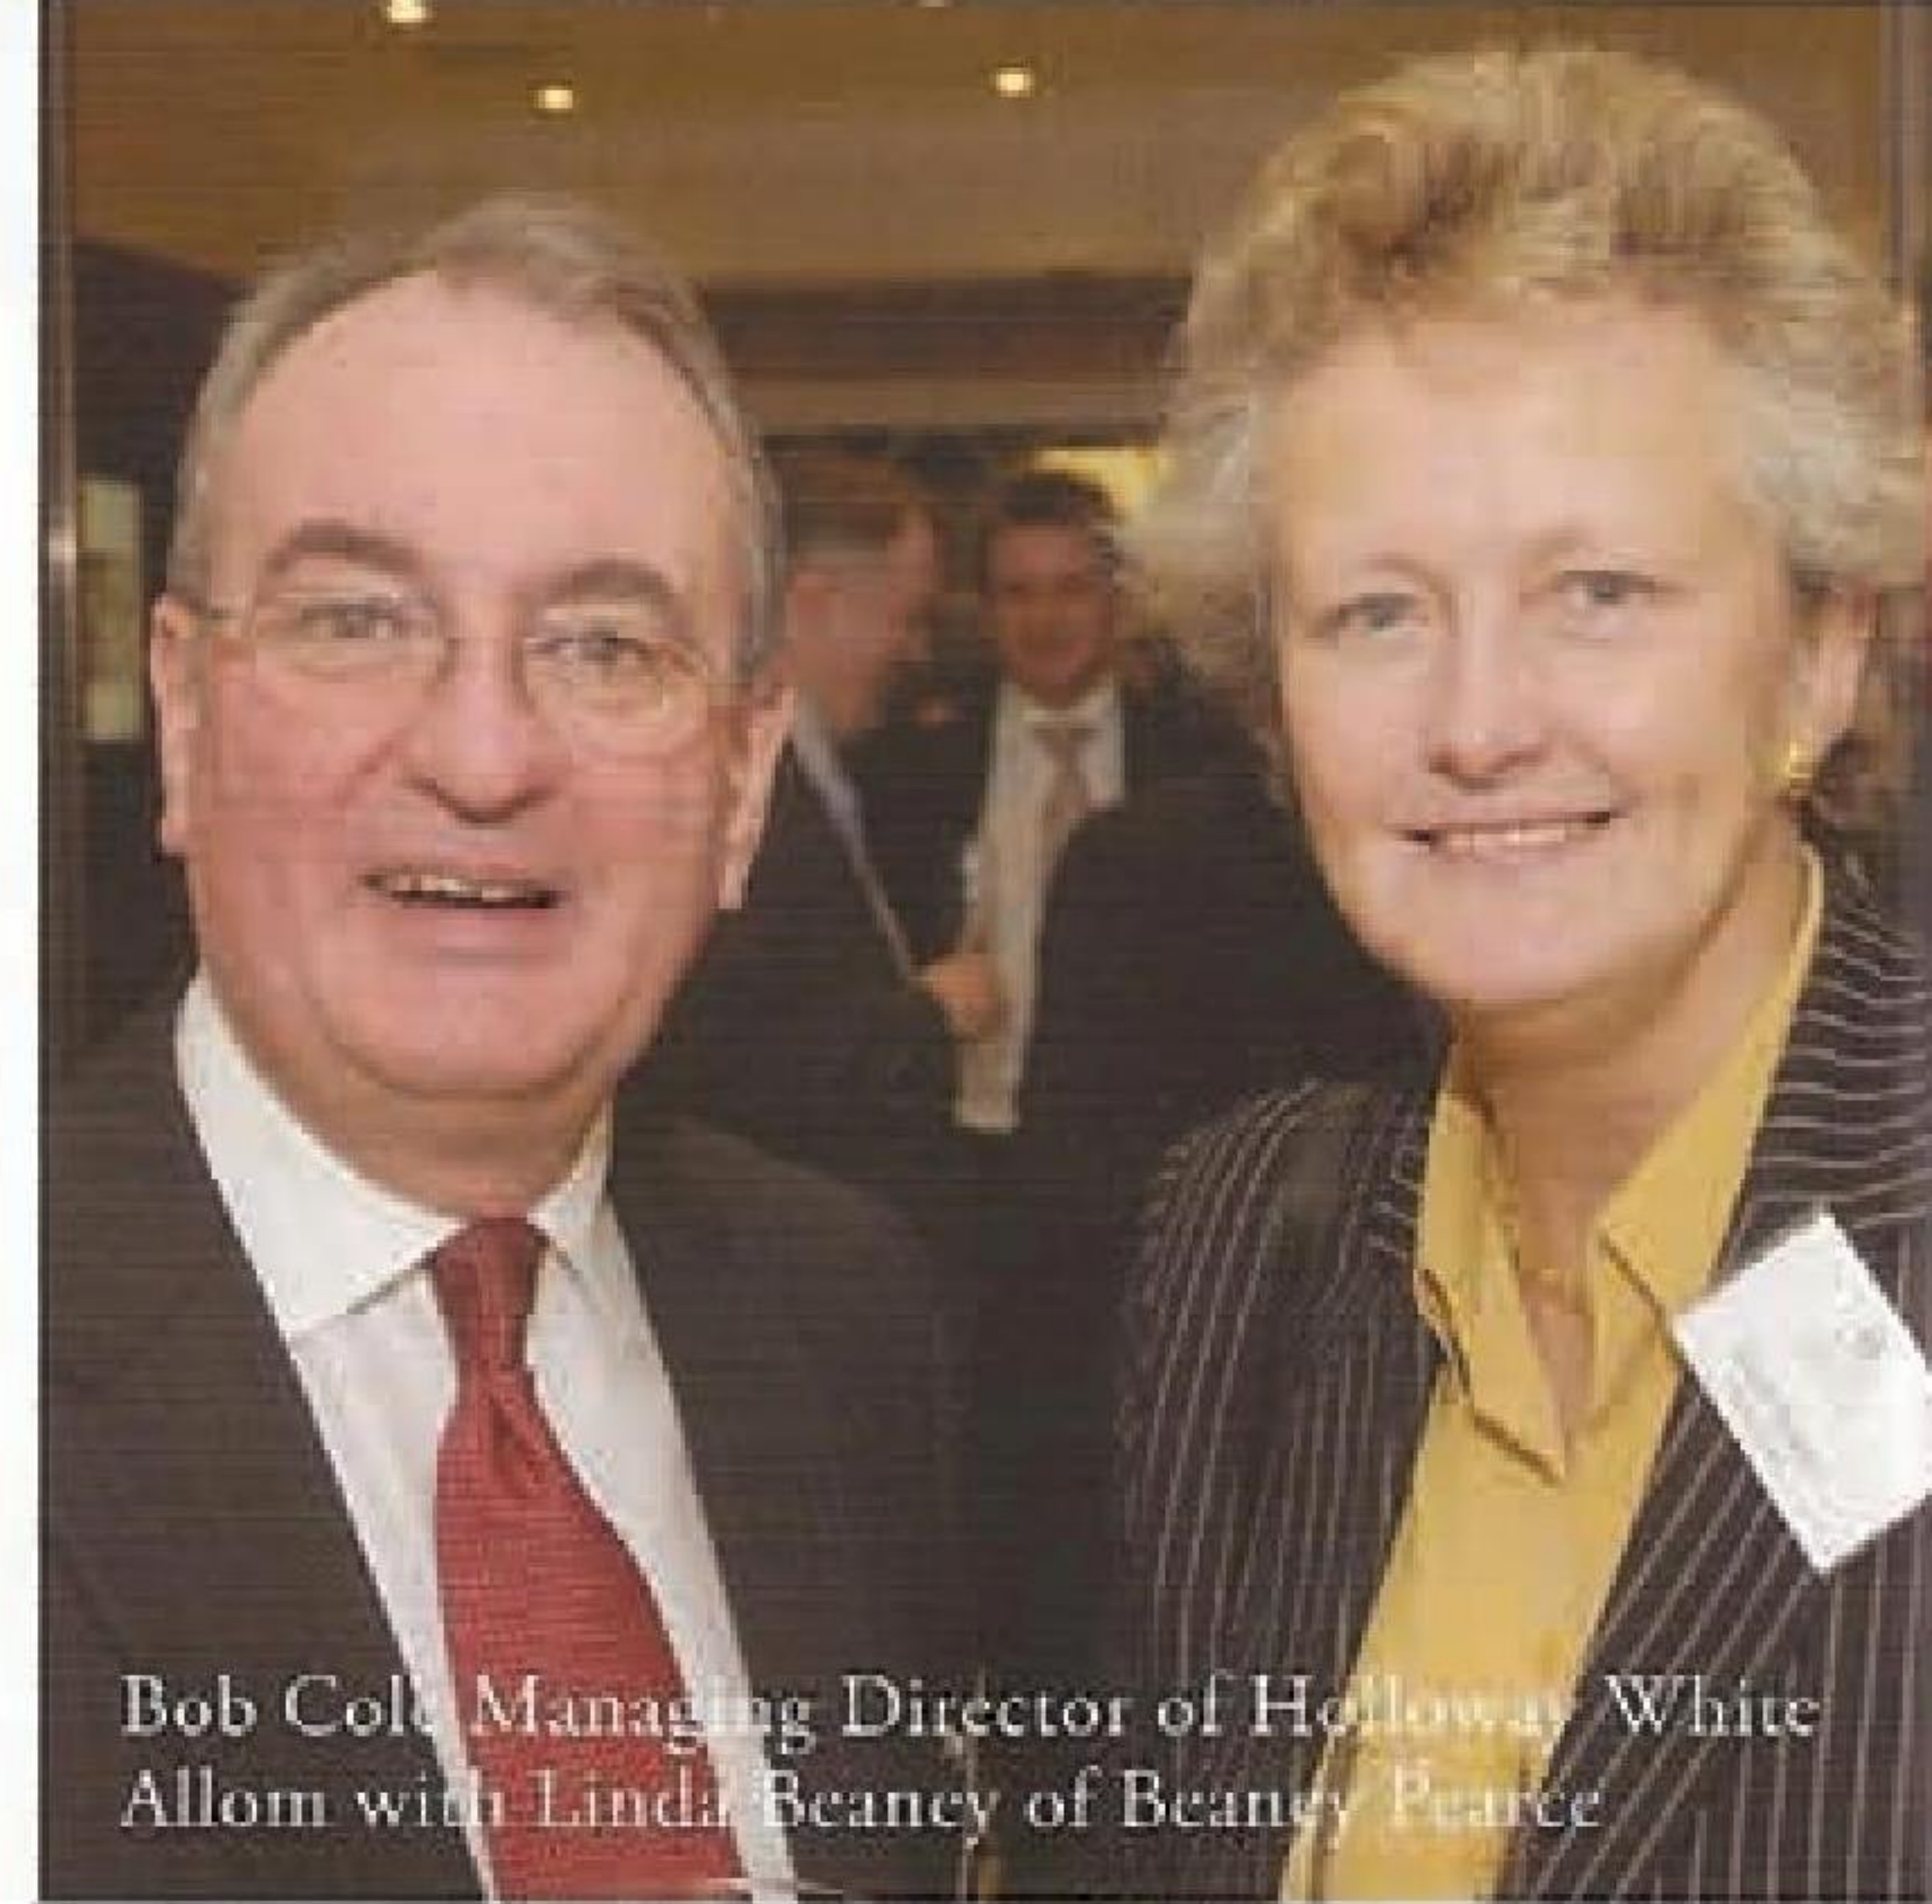

Left to right: Bob Cole, Managing Director of Holloway White Allom, Amanda Huison of Huison Designs, Angus Gibson of Gibson Music and Phil Whitehead, Deputy Managing Director of Holloway White Allom

At the latest cocktail party for London's leading estate agents held by specialist Mayfair builders Holloway White Allom, Charles Lloyd of Savill's Sloane Street Branch won a bottle of champagne in the evening's special draw. Charles specialises in the sale of flats valued at £2m plus. With over 20 years' experience of residential property sales, more than three quarters of which have been in the heart of Mayfair, Charles knows this world famous London village intimately. Over the years he has seen many changes, perhaps the most noticeable of which is a lowering of the average age of Mayfair residents. While there is still a consistency among the staff in local shops, many of whom have looked after residents for numerous years, in recent times an increasing number of commercial outlets have upgraded their facilities to meet the changing needs of their customers in the twenty first century.

All photos by Scott Collier

Peter Sawa Group Sales and Marketing Manager of Holloway White Allom (left) with Robert Bailey of Robert Bailey Property

Bob Cole Managing Director of Holloway White Allom with Linda Beancy of Beancy Pearce

Cherisse Harris, Maintenance Supervisor of Holloway White Allom with Charlie Parkin of Aylesford International

Phil Whitehead Deputy Managing Director of Holloway White Allom (left) with Charles Lloyd of Savills Sloane Street Branch. Charles won the champagne draw held during the evening.

Ben Colgate Group Business Development Director of Holloway White Allom (left) and Richard Curt of Knight Frank